

Suddenly

Enoch - character in Bible who has died, told Anna is dead but refuses to accept it (why? he loves her)

(but he knew everything will die), discovered for the first time, Seriozha confronts death & orphanhood important for book: other people's lives → Anna talking w/ adultery, new love, finds someone who loves her for her, first time experiencing adult love, deepest reason for adultery is her orphanhood, in other half of book, Levin's brother dying, marriage isn't as good as expected, brother's death reminds him that he is an orphan, tries to kill himself

Seriozha's discussion is child's view of what everybody else is going through bandaged official, deeply caring about total strangers / Simeon doesn't remember people when they're gone since he's able to share love of life - Simeon vs. Levin → Combo = Seriozha Scary because S is perfect human being, basically will be destroyed

(childhood) - illness

Anzhelika - 'brought back to life', walks out and never seen again = 'dead', why show her? Tolstoy ^{said} he ^{sees} tells it as a tragedy, Seriozha & Anna, trying to break Lent, powerful happiness → darkness survived house, accidentally says S name, doorman, S sleepy, falls asleep, forgets to leave presents CONVO between the two: wonderful (why? S tells tutor, something will happen on b'day, windmills & perhaps in his dream, sure it will happen, wakes up → it's exactly as dream = power of love) no connection b'dy. so far, S knows how A thinks, 100% connection, gone 4-12 months, still incomplete same vulnerability

S wakes up yet (s)he knew it life good, she's not dead, everything is great → we think wrong

Servants being fight downstairs, head servant yells @ doorman → crucifixion of Jesus, fight: FA should be left in doorman willing to fight for her, worth losing job, mothers never die

S sees from A that it's time to go, don't go (parents can't meet), A looks at S to see if true

Closest 2 human beings are in ALL books, how should love father (p 488) (child fighting against cruelty of universe, A says to S that K is good, better than L → forget her if he does forget her, won't feel bad about it, be good without me

All goes back to childhood every in marriage → puts back into state of childhood, replacement between mother & child, it all collapses, fold in a different way, choice but fails to leave S because trying to fix own orphandom, turns S into orphandom lates everyone & everything = PROOF later in book, S asked by Stiva about mother, cut to end, sitting on stairs 'leave me alone' to tutor Pukhov even if it happens to S, then it happens to everyone \Rightarrow cycle of orphandom hated, ever / over anyone unconditionally / orphandom 1) death, 2) egotism everyone's an egotist

TS 16 CHANGE: loss of faith in people's ability to love one another, selfishness is now bad initial: Dolly selfish, joy comes from it, puts everything into marriage, getting close to people, but / love

Anna dies, book not obviously tragic p. 556 - wants to hear from good person's opinion, Dolly \rightarrow 1st hour, free of children, wants a hunting (not fully) I love you and your flaws, Anna takes words well

p. 569 - V to D, convince read divorce, D thinks A not happy, too painful to look at, SHOULD face it frequently

p. 577 - birth control?, refuses to admit judging & giving upon her

p. 578B - Dolly's version of the depression, now thinking love parts of her, but not all - don't love Anna, but 2 people can't be best

p. 582 - get back to children, want to go back - comfortable, small detail - say positive things but won't tell people OR herself that she loves Anna unconditionally, Dolly goes home and squints, ^{sighs after} can't face truth of real life

Levin depressed of both orphandom, solution is love, battle between Dostoevsky brother and his living wife gets so bad that he considers killing himself p. 714, 'perfectly happy' but thinks of suicide proof that Levin's religion (lasted) - comes to flakes, then forgets about it, 'solved the riddle' \rightarrow I do my, won't show how long it lasts religion is untrustworthy, can't stick with anything revelation: life is good, but few others, guests arrive, Levin annoyed by servant - realizes can't control temper, Levin hangs up but heart drops like he sees them, deserves to be alone

p. 738 - K \leftrightarrow L, talk of holiday lighting, nice car, K distracted, L walks outside, found answer = Xity life changing moment, & L realizing / recognizing moments aren't amazing things, small things in life

What? faith is closest thing to childhood, ruined ideal of perfect marriage, after while book based on business, at least bit of refuge for adults, on last page → most important part of L is himself, not fully sharing heart with K

Love each other but hearts will never fully connect, depression wins, lost good connection A & S everybody thinks damaged, mother doesn't love unconditionally, always ourselves first, meaning of life = ME
